

PRIZE-WINNERS 2017

JOINT OVERALL WINNERS

Max Penrose – Maths and Computing

Did World War II produce an equivalent of a modern computer?

Charlie Shan – Biological Sciences

To what extent will DNA based data storage technologies replace existing digital storage systems?

PRESIDENT'S PRIZES

Arden, Ellie – English

Female Appropriation of the Sonnet Form: from Wroth to Egan.

Brine, Tom – Biological Sciences

Novel Methods of Lung Cancer Detection: Could There Be a Canine Solution?

Lee, John – Maths and Computing

Ramsey Theory: Order Amongst Chaos.

Lee, Ryan – Maths and Computing

On Solving Impartial Games.

Monaco, Nick – Psychology

To What Extent Should There Be a Paradigm Shift from Pharmaceutical to Behavioural Treatment of Schizophrenia?

Parker, Jamie – Biological Sciences

To What Extent Could the Role of Caspase-8 in the Mediation of Apoptosis be Developed into an Effective Treatment for Cancer?

Rathmell, Adam – Humanities

Should the Insanity-Based Test be Reformed to Include a Capacity-Based Test?

Sims, Anya – Biological Sciences

To What Extent Can Potential Novel Antibiotics on the Horizon Overcome the Threat of Antibiotic Resistance?

Walsh, Eoin – Physical Sciences

To What Extent is Quantum Cryptography a Practical Approach to Securing Communication?

Williams, Rowan – History

'A Sacred Struggle for Freedom and Rights': How Far Were the First Boer Republics Founded on the Principle of Liberty?