

MAGDALEN
COLLEGE SCHOOL
FOUNDED IN 1480
BY WILLIAM OF WAYNFLETE

WAYNFLETE ACADEMIC: VARIOUS SUBJECTS

Magdalen College School, Oxford, founded by William Waynflete in 1480 is one of the country's leading independent schools. Each year we employ a small number of graduates, doctoral and post-doctoral researchers in a part time (typically between half a day and one day per week) capacity to provide up-to-date, scholarly and expert knowledge as part of our academic enrichment programme. Recent appointees have found the role fits well alongside their current research commitments.

We will be considering applications for Waynflete Academics in the following subjects:

- Art
- Biology
- Chemistry
- Geography
- Economics
- Politics
- English
- Mathematics
- Spanish
- Theology
- Computer Science

The salary for Waynflete Academics is £22,000 per annum (full-time equivalent). The precise nature of the roles will be shaped in accordance with departmental needs to fit the strengths of the candidate appointed, with potential responsibilities including assistance with university preparation, supervision of Waynflete Studies Projects (Lower Sixth extended research project), offering enrichment activities for the most able pupils and arranging talks by visiting speakers. A willingness to contribute to the School's extensive community engagement and outreach programme is desirable.

Those interested should download and complete the Teaching Staff application form from our website: <https://www.mcsoxford.org/about-us/vacancies--> and send this with a CV and covering letter to the Recruitment Officer, Mrs Sarah Hunter (shunter@mcsoxford.org) as soon as possible. We reserve the right to interview and appoint at any time.

Magdalen College School is committed to the safeguarding of pupils, and the successful candidate will be required to undergo statutory safeguarding checks before the commencement of his/her employment.
